

Welcome

There's a time in our life when living at home is not the best option. Be it yourself, your spouse, your dad, your mom, your daughter or your son, staying at home when one's level-of care need is really high, presents lots of challenges.

Here are some incidents that could have been prevented, had the family moved their loved one in a safe, nurturing care facility:

- ✓ Alice wandered away from their home while her daughter was at work. It took several hours before the police found her tired and dehydrated in a park.
- ✓ Grandma Evelyn ended up in the hospital with a broken hip after she had tripped on a rug one night during a bathroom trip; she wet herself on the floor, was in and out of consciousness, and nobody knew it.
- ✓ Thelma, a young adult with insomnia and depression, was found in bed one morning with mouth frothing and barely breathing. Without anyone taking care of her, Thelma overdosed herself with medications.

Our Mission Statement

To provide the best possible environment to our elderly clients and disabled adults where they could obtain assistance to meet their everyday needs and still maintain their dignity.

About Us

Glen and Crisina Jackson moved from the East Coast to Sacramento, California in 1984. Theirs was a one-income family. Having a BS Degree in Business Management and being naturally entrepreneurial, Crisina thought of starting a business. Seeing an increasing need for quality care facilities in the area, Crisina zeroed in on care facilities.

Jackson Facility was Crisina's first care facility. It is a 12-bed care home for adults with disabilities. It was licensed in 1989 and has since served a good number of adults from 18 to 59 years of age. Average length of stay of clients at the care facility is 7 years. Some have even been there more than 12 years. Good service, caring staff and camaraderie among the clients are the reasons for their long stay.

With more social workers calling for client placement, Crisina decided to open up another facility. Soon Crisina was developing a good track record in running care home facilities. Clients were very satisfied with the care they were receiving in the homes. Clients' families, conservators as well as placement agencies were very please, too. And best of all her care home facilities were getting good reviews from LPAs in the Sacramento Licensing Office.

Our Services

At Jacksons Facilities, Inc., we respect the individuality of our clients. With that said, we endeavor to provide personalized services that best matches our clients' unique condition and needs. Delivered by qualified care professionals, our services include:
